@readyssetjetset

Hello! I am a 25-year-old travel blogger based out of Austin, TX. By day, I run a freelance photography business, shooting everything from corporate events to live music. I discovered my love of travel while studying abroad in London and Glasgow during college, and I haven't looked back!

My social media focus is on Instagram, where I currently have 72.3K followers as of March 29, 2017 and am growing by 300-500 followers a day. I pride myself on having a highly engaged following - each photo is liked more than 1000 times and I usually receive about 100 comments per post. Having an active and engaged community is very important to my brand. My latest endeavor is my blog readyssetjetset.net, where my followers will find a more in-depth look at my travels around the world.
