

CASTELLANI

Born in Brazil and grew up between São Paulo, Paris, LONDON and LA since the age of 6. I am Italian, French, Portuguese, African.... Hated the camera and fashion growing up so to end up here is ironic.

I don't believe in titles I believe you do what you want and find the right people who share your vision. If i had to put a name to it, I am Communicator exploring all the world has to offer using all the way to communicate with people and tribes Modelling, Styling , Producing , Designing , Acting, etc.....

My social media is just one more way for me to express myself and communicate with those who have an identity with me and my lifestyle.

Sometimes it will be more personal, sometimes more artistic and sometimes it will be more superficial, but always with an understood responsibility's I lity and always considering a relationship based on trust between me and my audience.
