Business Traveler's Wife

discovering the world together, one trip at a time

JEN

Most of my followers know me as the "Business Traveler's Wife." I tag along on my husband's business trips and we also have our own "side trips." As of today, we've been staying at different kinds of hotels for more than 2 years.

With a bucketlist to cross off together, we've been on countless roadtrips and adventures! Oh, and let's not forget about my other passion - food! I learn the culture of our new destinations through the local cuisine.
