

Stephanie Smolders

Online Business - Marketing - Digital Nomad

Hi, I'm Stephanie

I'm an online business and marketing mentor who travels the world together with my partner.

My entrepreneurial journey started when I was 18, running an events company in Belgium. Professionally, I used to be a teacher, but together with Peter, we sold everything we owned, hopped on a plane and started our travel website (Tourist Exclusive) while doing marketing consultancy and managing a location-independent social media agency.

I guide driven entrepreneurs to their mission and then help them carry it out into the world in a way that works for them and connects to their ideal client.

I have a podcast called the mission-driven entrepreneur show which you listen to on Spotify and Itunes

I got featured in..
