@JENNY STUMME

From Des Moines, Iowa, to USC Film School, to a bustling acting career in Hollywood...

(Most recent movies: "Senior Moment" with William Shatner and Christopher Lloyd, "Gods & Secrets" with Denise Richards and Jane Seymour)

As a sought-after actress, filmmaker, and influencer, Jenny Stumme has built an audience of 120,000 by infusing her work with optimism, intelligence, and a healthy dose of humor.

That sensability isn't hard to spot in her brightly colored, adventurous, and imaginative photography style, and her relatable, often self-effacing comedy sketch videos. Because of her work in TV/film, she enjoys collaborating with a fantastic network of talented photographers, film crew, and visual creatives in bringing her artistic ideas to life.

When it comes to branded content creation, authenticity and passion for the brand is the #1 most important factor in deciding who to work with. Out of respect for her loyal audience, Jenny is very selective about her partnerships, since she feels that sponsored content should feel like an organic extension of her own brand. She also believes that this yields the best results for the brand.

Jenny loves to collaborate with brands that are female-driven, geared toward millenials, fun-loving with a sense of humor, or those that solve a problem or encourage wellness and balance for busy working individuals. Brands that champion individuality, expression, wellness, and empowerment are an especially fantastic fit! If that's you, Jenny looks forward to creating incredible content with you.
