RICHIE HOSEIN

Managing Partner of Exit Hospitality Group, LLC, Co-founder of premier music & nightlife venue, A.M. Southampton and the President of TRE Medical, and Board Advisory Member Brabble

Hosein credits his success to “providing the best products and services, treating his employees better than they have been treated before, and providing his investors with solid, residual returns on their money.” This philosophy has allowed him to build several multi-million dollar businesses and continually retain the best talent. His success has been recognized by his high school as well. Every year, the institution gives out a Rich Hosein Athletic Scholarship to future leaders that exhibit leadership skills both athletically and academically.

Lastly, Hosein is passionate about supporting his childhood community in Old Bethpage. He supports various local non-profits such as Urban Tech, a NYC organization that helps underprivileged children with limited access to technology. Richie Hosein is recognized as a talented entrepreneur, advisor, and philanthropist

RICHIE HOSEIN has successfully built a strong domain in the hospitality and music arenas. He currently is a Managing Partner of Exit Hospitality Group, LLC and the Co-Founder of premier music & nightlife venue, A.M. Southampton. Hosein launched A.M. Southampton in summer 2016. He projects to grow the A.M. brand and expand into major cities including NYC, Las Vegas, Miami and other global nightlife capitals. Hosein also joined the managing team for The Janes, an all-girl band that performed at the 2016 VH1 Save The Music After Party at A.M Southampton. Additionally, he has joined Heads Music, an independent music label started by Madeline Nelson as its VP of Business Development. He is actively working on artist development and looking to pursue opportunities in TV and Radio.

He has had thriving ventures in the medical industry as well. He currently serves as President of TRE Medical, a leading medical device sales consultancy. TRE Medical works with Independent Sales Reps worldwide representing the medical device, pharmaceutical, and biotech industries. “We have helped over thousands of healthcare clinicians and major hospitals worldwide bridge the gap between education and technology. We are the leaders in technology and sales consulting in the healthcare arena. Changing through technological advances the way hospitals, medical offices, and doctors practice medicine,” said Hosein. In an impressive 13 years, Hosein has built TRE Medical into one of today’s most successful medical companies in the country.

Furthermore, Hosein previously worked for Pfizer, a medical company with a state-of-the-art portfolio of products that support wellness, prevention, treatment, and cures for various diseases. He was awarded the Vice President Cabinet Award for being the company’s top sales rep, and received a similar award at Empire Surgical where he was consistently one of the top sales reps in the country.

In addition, Hosein has a strong position in investments. He runs Exit Partners LLC, which earns revenue by owning equity in the companies it invests in - technology, business, and hospitality ventures. He just recently joined as an Advisory Board Member for Brabble Inc, a social sharing app that allows users to communicate using audio, video, photo, and text all in one network.
