KAYTE DEMONT

WCKDCOLLECTIVE.COM

Kayte was born and raised in Maine, spent 4 years in Boston, and then moved to Los Angeles for a year of creative inspiration. From there, Kayte landed in Denver for 4 years and now resides in Austin, TX.

Kayte spent the formative years of her life in a dance studio or on a stage performing. The majority of her training and education started in performing arts and then continued on to more classical forms of studio arts. After graduating from Gettysburg College with a degree in English and a concentration in Studio Art, she created the blog Mass Musings (2012-2020) as a central place of inspiration for creative individuals. Kayte focused on creating quality content and genuine connections with a strong emphasis on lifestyle and music. Through her writing and photography, she was able to connect her audience with some of the most well-respected, international brands and artists.

Now, Kayte works as a full-time artist (in many mediums) and freelance stylist (both fashion and interior). Kayte is a proven community leader and teacher, having taught several classes through General Assembly and consulted on the launch of various start-up movements around the country.
