LUNASITH

My real name is Julie Lepine, I'm 24 years old and a social media content creator. I am also a photo model, a digital artist (drawing, photo editing ..). Originally from France, my content revolves around the new clothing trend called Techwear. I have enjoyed creating around the post apocalyptic and futuristic universe for several years now. I'm also very interested in alternative content, aesthetics, makeup, and different fashion.

I also like to create around the technological and geek universe such as video games, manga, photography, etc. My community is primarily from France and extends to the United States, Russia, and more. I am currently working with several photographers and directors for projects (photos, short films, etc ...).
