

JACKIE COOKS AND DRINKS

RECIPE + CONTENT CREATOR AND FOOD BLOGGER

ABOUT ME

I have always had a passion for entertaining and cooking. Cooking, baking, and entertaining are not only therapeutic to me, but what I love most is the reactions from family, friends, and clients when they try and experience something they enjoy.

I love great wine, dark beers, and tequila. I love to drink them and love to cook with them and I especially like to drink them while cooking with them! I love seeing the outcome of new recipes, tweaking traditional classics, and making sure whoever I am entertaining leaves spirited!

THE BLOG

I believe food and drink bring people together. Hosting a party or preparing a meal can seem daunting to some people. I want to help people realize it is not as difficult as they may think and can be a whole lot of fun.

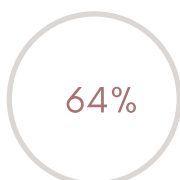

People should have a great time entertaining, putting together a meal, and trying new things; I try to create easy to follow recipes with simple and accessible ingredients, as well as entertaining tips.

After all, when people come together with food and drinks, memories get created.
