about me

Nardia a mother of 2, combat Army Veteran, trainer, fitness addict, and influencer. With over 15 years of experience in the fitness industry, my goal is to continue to inspire and help others reach their goal.

I have always had a passion for fitness and have been a natural motivator encouraging others to attain their personal fitness goals. I was an athlete growing up and kept it up throughout my life and continued that throughout my Army years, training hundreds of soldiers. Since then I have helped many others (online or in person) throughout the past years reach their fitness goals. My Social media platform has given me the opportunity to connect with and uplift women just like me and inspire.
