H

ello! My name is Ingrid and I am the owner of Ingrid Castro & Co., Leash & Paws and a few other small businesses. I love dogs, stationary and matcha lattes. I started my own company to help small businesses with their social media as well as to help streamline their day to day. Being an entrepreneur myself I believe in collaboration rather than competition and if I can help someone improve their business why not? I also love being able to give owners the ability to work on their business rather than in it day to day. I would love to work with brands that I love and use personally as well as one that can better the lives of my audience. Whether it be a cool subscription box or a powerful CRM tool. Let's chat!
