ABOUT US

Let's join together our passions of photographers and travelers, to tell our adventures. It all stems from the desire to tell through the lens the surrounding world and to convey the emotions that our journeys have made us experience.

I don't want to wait to marry you, I want to marry you right away!

"Because without looking for you I find you everywhere especially when I close my eyes. Between me and you it was immediately destiny, I knew you would be my turning point, my most radical change."

Initially we did not want to publish the photos of our marriage, we wanted it to remain just ours.

But then we realized we were the example of a change too big not to be shouted to the world. "

Finally the time we have been waiting for has arrived, now we can dedicate more to us, then to outdoor activities, take long walks and confront ourselves in order to give a shape to our thoughts.

Many projects swarm in the air and one of these tonight will finally become reality: the first photography course held by Yuri, obviously always with the support of Ale: even the mere presence counts! ♥

Perhaps you will have understood that Tuscany is our favorite region, we cannot help but come back whenever we can! We took this photo on the elegant Terrazza Mascagni in Livorno, which is located on the waterfront and dates back to 1920; consists of 4100 columns and the floor is a checkerboard of 8700 square meters.

In your opinion, how many are the tiles that make up this board? Away with the numbers !!

BAABUK

Companions of our recent tour in Cilento, were our new wool @baabuk sneakers. Initially we were a little skeptical about the product. Wool shoes in fact, are not really usual, especially if we think of the models on the market in stores, but, once we arrived at home we immediately changed our mind...

Find the review on our blog, the link in the bio.

Have you ever worn woolen shoes?

ARNALDO CAPRAI WINERY

Did you know that the production time of white wine is much shorter than the red one because, already after six months, white is ready for the market, so they tend to produce a greater quantity of young white wines than the red that has a longer maturation process.

If you want to deepen, on our blog we have just published the article about our recent visit to the estate of @arnaldocaprai. Find the link in the bio.

LE TORRI DI PORSENNIA

Long journeys are our favorites, but the short breaks between a busy week and the other are those that we appreciate most because they allow us to recharge the batteries and realize how beautiful it is to SHARE time together, if you then have the chance to be guests of a wonderful farm like this even better.

Abbiamo trascorso un fine settimana immersi nelle campagne fra Umbria e Toscana in una location da favola. @letorridiporsenna

HAPPY SOCKS

When you wake up, in the morning Ale chooses carefully how to dress, perhaps according to the mood while Yuri prepares everything the night before because, if by mistake he does not find the socks in the right place, he loses a quarter of an hour looking for them.

Now that the beautiful season is coming, we were going to cheer up our day with these fantasies, almost summer: 🦢gelati and 🦢ciambelle lifeguard in the shape of swans!

WILKINSON HYDRO CONNECT

Another important moment of our day is shaving. We have beards we need to take care of, and every so often we try new products. Now we have discovered the Wilkinson Hydro Connect, which with its 7 dosers of moisturizing gel, leave our skin moisturized during each shave.

RIVOLI BOUTIQUE HOTEL

The journey represents for us the sum of lived experiences, sensations and human contact with the people we meet on our journey, for this reason we pay particular attention to the places where we stay, because this is where we share most of everything, and these are requirements to which every traveler should give importance: to all those intangible things that will make up the memory of that journey.

PALAZZO BELSANTI B&B

CoupleA couple, a passion, a destination💎

... Even if only for one night💎, this experience has left us a lot, above all because we have seen in these guys 💎, the same love 💎 and the same passion that we put in what we do, and it is beautiful when you find a certain agreement with those in front of you. Having spent the night at Palazzo Belsanti gave that bit of authenticity more to our Apulian journey and if we were to return to Lecce one day, we will know which door to "sell".
