INSTAGRAM BLOGGER/
GLOBETROTTER

Elizaveta Maslova

A Norway-based blogger with a taste for good writing, soul of a globetrotter, passion for style and sustainability.

Every trip for me is a story worth telling. The story that portrays charm of the place and submerges audience into its atmosphere through captivating details, local food and traditions. My stories are tastefully shared with a personal touch and told in the words that make people want to visit the place.

My journeys span from breathtaking volcano sunrises in Hawaii to sun-filled vineyards of Luxembourg, from Norwegian fjords to Mexican beaches and lush jungles of Bali. Travelling for me is not just about destination, it's often full of unique experiences be it Coachella Festival in California, Formula 1 Grand Prix in Abu Dhabi, truffle hunting in French Provence, kitesurfing in Caribbeans, snorkelling with whale sharks in Maldives, concerts in London, or snowboarding in French Alps.

I am fortunate to have a great community of followers in my instagram blog who are very engaged, and I always try to give it back by sharing tips and recommendations from the trips. Noteworthy, I strictly follow marketing guidelines about disclosing the sponsored content.
