About me

I was born in Rio de Janeiro and, at 13, my family and I went to Angola and lived for 3 and a half years. In 2018, I moved to the United States, where I currently live. In Angola, I decided to create a YouTube channel that I don't currently use, but that's where I discovered my love for producing content and interacting with the public. Talking to the camera is my passion. But here in the US, I decided to focus entirely on Instagram as a digital influencer.

My work

Entertain people, talk about various subjects, learn new things and take good pictures in order to grow professionally and become a model. My focus is to be a good influencer, well engaged, bringing good experiences and tips to my followers, being a digital reference.
