Kelly's "50 shades of Quarantine" sketch comedy characters and accolades

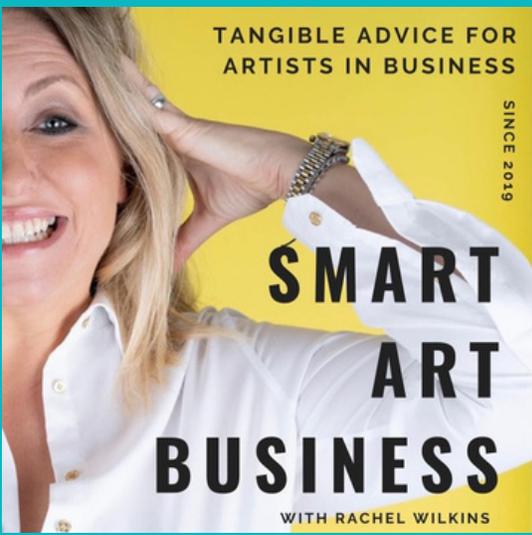

Kelly Pantaleoni

kellypantaleoni.com
40secondsfilm.com

Australian actress made her introduction to Hollywood as a spokesmodel for GUESS and a Bebe 'It Girl' finalist, competing in the Miss California USA Pageant, and won 'Best swimsuit body' in the Miss Hollywood pageant the following year. Her feature film debut was in the first "Avengers" film franchise, and has since appeared in tv shows on FX, Lifetime and Disney. Kelly merged her passion for writing and creating purpose-driven content to now make movies with a message. Producing a drama on mental health in Vancouver that she wrote and starred in, "40 seconds" is now a multiple award winner in the international festival circuit. In Uganda, Kelly filmed a documentary capturing the stories of village women she was working with through her Non Profit organization Give Backpackers. Her latest comedy "50 shades of Quarantine" premiered at the Portland Comedy Film Festival and is now winning awards as it tours the globe.

Kelly hosted her first "NFT's & film" room on Clubhouse and has been collecting and creating NFT's ever since. She has represented 10k collections at conferences, plays a Voicover character in "The red ape family" NFT series on Apple TV, run strategic partnerships for a DAO, and attends all the major web3 festivals and conventions around the United States. Kelly is set to speak at the Web3 women's summit that kicks off Art Basel in Miami December 2022.
