Jana

Living in Boston, and New York as her second home. She run and orchestrated her own first fashion show in May 2019 in an art gallery of Boston (Outr ). She's a self-made fashion photographer that her work can be seen in multiple magazines and online also published on Vogue Italia and has a degree in the fashion business!

On her Instagram feed, you will find a variety of her personal interests and taste in beauty and fashion. She likes to show her lifestyle to her followers and share her experiences as well.

Fashion is a way of introducing yourself without having to say a word. You can tell the whole world about your personality just by the type of clothes you wear. It is also a way to express yourself. It provides us with a creative outlet that we can constantly change and improve.
