Jeff's Story

Hi! My name is Jeff Yamazaki and I'm a 27 year old Japanese-American born and raised in Los Angeles. My style and inspiration comes from this amazing city and I love expressing my California lifestyle through clothes and food.

Fashion is a critical part of my life and being able to spread that joy of self-expression through clothing has brought me to where I am today. Spreading content through my blog, Instagram and Pinterest has been a rewarding experience and I'm always looking forward to creating something new!

If you would like to partner together to create professional, engaging and exciting content for my followers to see and share, I would be ecstatic! My contact info is on the right, so please contact me whenever you're ready.

Thank you!
