

DREADROCK

James Samuels (born May 21, 1995), better known by his stage name Dreadrock, is an American rapper, songwriter, entrepreneur, businessman, and record producer. Born and raised on the Westside of Chicago, Dreadrock first started his music career in 2011.

He began recording rap lyrics off his iPhone, as an outlet to voice his emotions of battling trauma on the streets. His love for music only continued to grow, thus bringing the trials and tribulations of his life from paper to the stage. Ensuing, on April 22, 2019, he founded Swervnation, a Chicago based hip hop record label ready to help new rappers have a voice and outlet. Rocket Power 2 is the newest album released by Dreadrock, which dropped on December 4, 2020, with a total of 10 songs. The album is an addition to his debut album RocketPower launched in 2017. He just released a new song, From Where I Started, available now.
