"Different is Beautiful."

BIO

Hi! ☺ My name is Emily. I am North Carolina Coastal woman who loves taking risk, searching for the better thing's life has to offer, and diving into everything & anything- fashion, beauty, & lifestyle. I am a firm believer that loving yourself paves a way for happiness in your life & have a few relatable examples I would love to share later! I take pride in supporting brands and products that make others feel-look-taste-smell and sound good. I'm a high-spirited and passionate person with big dreams of making my mark on the world to spread positivity to others in every direction I go.

GOALS

My overall goal is to have a positive impact on anyone I cross paths with no matter the age, race, or gender. I went through a huge lifestyle change a little less than a year ago & I know what it's like to lose yourself & how hard it can be to find yourself again. But YOU CAN, and I DID.

I am ecstatic for this opportunity & promote self-love, positive image, and show others how to be happy with who they are. I want to encourage everyone to pursue their dreams and passions, jump out of their comfort zones and truly be happy as I am!
