about me

I am a full-time clothing reseller in Nashville, TN, which means I spend most my days at my local thrift stores hunting the cutest clothes. I am obsessed with cute clothes--I really have this innate need to have all my outfits complimented. I'm also all about woman empowerment--what a time to be a woman!--and strive to find the perfect balance of treat yo self moments and healthy-ish choices. The rest of my heart is filled with coffee (duh), the color pink, and dogs.

about my platform

I love giving my followers a glimpse of a day-in-my-life by uploading Instagram stories throughout the day. I am very active on Instagram and also love sharing reselling-tips, clothing hauls, food + drink recipes, and really anything that makes life cuter.
