Model, Photographer, Content Creator

ABOUT ME

Hi my name is, Ruby and I am a Canadian curve model, and content creator based out of Vancouver BC. I have been modelling professionally for nearly 20 years, and have been blessed to work with incredible brands and artists from around the world. I have been sharing my work and life online since 2010, and have built an engaged, online community that I love connecting with by sharing my work, life, and passions with daily. My career has evolved over the years into work as an influencer, content creator, photographer, educator, and public speaker. I am passionate about the work I do, as well as working with brands who mirror my message of self love, inclusivity, and mental health activism. I love vintage style, fashion, good food, travel, and events, and I would love to work together to help showcase your business or brand!

What Ruby's Clients Are Saying!

"Ruby is one of my top, favourite people to work with and one of my first choices in the industry. We have worked together on several occasions throughout many years both in person and virtually. Each time she has been wonderfully personable, amazingly professional and an absolute dream to work with. Her work is beautiful, personal, and relatable. You will not regret booking her. She sets the standard for a reliable, fun, hard-working and is an all around awesome person to work with! She is an excellent choice if you're looking for a model, content creator, influencer, or an event host.
