CHRISTIAN | TRAVEL

About me

I share my love for Jesus while traveling the United States with my cats in my van that I call home. I strive to create a gospel filled, raw, and unique experience for all of my followers. My goal is to bring honor and reflect Jesus so others can be inspired in thier own faith journey. If you come across my social media, you will see I have a love for; Traveling, God, Cats, People, The Eviroment, and DIYing.

WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU?

I will create something that will captivate my followers attention toward your product, by sharing my genuine love and excitement about your product/service. I have built a relationship and rapport with my followers by being authentic and interactive with them, which creates an environment where they can trust what I share. My followers share the same passions that I have, creating the perfect opportunity to share your products/service on my social media platform(s).
